

singing next to her. Olivia sang her heart out to "The Man," "22," and "Cruel Summer," while the crowd cheered. When the song ended, Olivia smiled and handed the hat to Brianna, her best friend.

After the concert, the girls headed to Brianna's house for a sleepover, where they stayed up late playing Roblox. They snacked on Oreos, Goldfish, and Bugles!

But when it was time to sleep, Olivia realized something terrible, she had forgotten her Small Blanky! The green and yellow blanket, which she had since she was a baby, was still at her house. She called her Mom and explained the situation. Understanding how important the blanky was, Mom asked Copper, their dog, to bring it over.

Copper wagged his tail, picked Small Blanky up in his mouth, and began to make his way to Brianna's house.

While they waited, Brianna and Olivia played more Roblox. Copper finally arrived, proudly carrying the blanky in his mouth. As Olivia snuggled up with her favorite blanky, Copper greeted Cheeto, his brother, and Brianna's dog, with a sloppy wet kiss. They started to play together, rolling around and having a blast.

Olivia and Brianna stayed up all night playing Roblox and having the best sleepover ever.
